SUNNYDALE SCHOOL

Mission Statement

To provide first class education to our pupils in order to prepare the total child for a successful future

Our well-trained and highly motivated teaching staff use the latest technology (learning aid, computers, audio-visual tools) to achieve this goal. Thus, the school turns out confident, responsible, hardworking, courteous, disciplined and well-heeled children who excel in all spheres of life

School Song

*We're the children of Sunnydale School - the centre of work and excellence, Oh! We are proud of our noble school that makes us soar on eagles' wings:
We are here to be the best, and we know we'll lead the world; Like a star that shines so bright is a child of Sunnydale School*

*We're the children of Sunnydale School; we pray for our school and our teachers,
That GOD will bless and guide our steps in love, and truth, and diligence:
We are here to be the best, and we know we'll lead the world;
Like a star that shines so bright is a child of Sunnydale School.*

editorial

In this edition of the Yearbook, we've shownchutzpah, we've gingered and turmericed our swagger, we've swum with clichés, floated like butterflies and stung like bees; we've had, and are having so much fun!

...“Sunnydale Spouse” stories, teacher teasers, pages of puzzles for the “beautiful generation”, parental pruning from the “beautiful generation”, and so much more...

As my people say, “Tábà tí kò dùn, enu ò lè p'olówó è! (A good product needs no hard-sell)

See for yourself!

We've bought into the idea that education is about training and "success", defined monetarily, rather than learning to think critically and to challenge. We should not forget that the true purpose of education is to make minds, not careers. A culture that does not grasp the vital interplay between morality and power, which mistakes management techniques for wisdom, which fails to understand that the measure of a civilization is its compassion, not its speed or ability to consume, condemns itself to death.

*Seasons come, and seasons go;
Children come, and children grow...
For 15 years, this has been our story here in Sunnydale School.*

Every year, during this season, we try to condense a year of our children's learning activities into a few pages, and celebrate graduating Year 6 children. In a way, we also celebrate their conscientious parents who made the right decision to thoroughly fortify their children's Primary foundation by allowing them pass through Year 6.

Mrs. F. M. Osisanya
Director of School

Class of 2012 - the fun-loving fourteen - continue to uphold the values you've learnt.

Parents, may we continuously have reasons to keep celebrating our children.

To all our other children, keep on doing well; it'll soon be your season.

Readers, enjoy...

How time flies. This academic year has successfully come to an end. All thanks go to the Almighty for seeing us through.

I dedicate this volume to my diligent Year 6 pupils and parents. Their patience has yielded bountiful dividends. They came, they saw, and conquered. As they step into a higher level of academic pursuit, my advice to them is that they should always keep their heads when others lose theirs. When pressures to throw away their virtues and morals come, they should show great level of conscious resistance. Our expectation of them is to influence their world positively.

To all my readers, enjoy every page.

Thank you.

Our beloved

Kenny

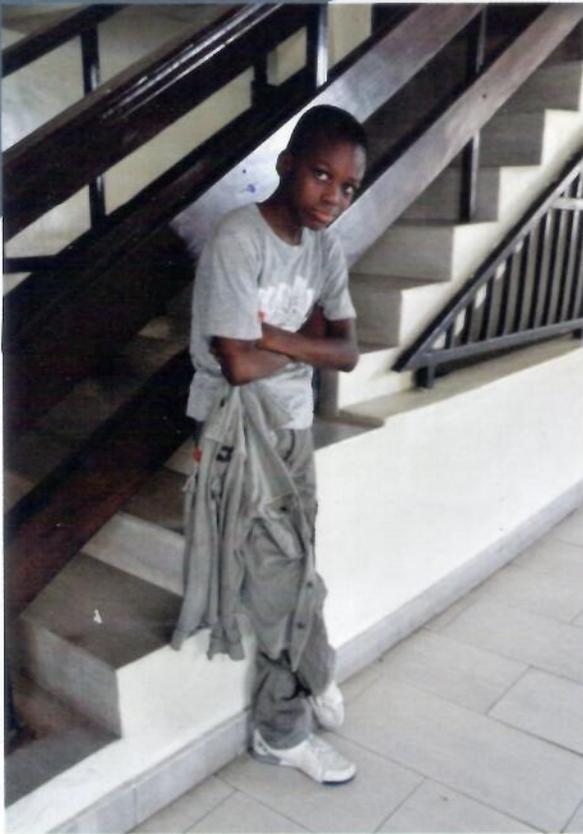

As you mark the end of the introductory stage of your great life's story, we are filled with pride and joy unlimited.

And with unwavering faith and great thanks to God,
the coming stages will be simply, awesomely wonderful.

Hearty congratulations!

With great love,

"I will never forget the four teachers who changed my life"

I have been piloting a plane in the same direction for six years now. I have to change course.

My stay in Sunnydale School has been fantastic. I started from Pre-School One and my teacher was Mrs Henshaw, with her many ways of punishing children.

Next came Pre-School Two and Miss Osagie Collete.

In Years One and Two I was taught by Mrs Ajayi and Mrs Yinusa. I can't remember all the teachers who taught me, but I will never forget the four teachers who changed my life; they are Mr Pitt, Mr Fadare, Mrs Olawale-Edun, and Mrs Fakoya.

The worst thing that happened to me was when it was reported to my teacher that I cheated though I didn't. And the best thing was when I was elected Deputy Head boy.

Fadare Ademola

Oh my! I cannot believe all this time in Sunnydale is over, but I will not forget all the teachers. I would like to be an Electrical Engineer.

My worst experience was breaking Mrs Fakoya's T-Square Ruler; my best experience was meeting Mrs Fakoya.

Timilehin Ogunbadejo

"There is success in going to greater heights of learning and education like how I'm going to Atlantic Hall"

I'm happy about secondary school, but I'll miss previous schools like Sunnydale, as well as staff like Mr Fadare and Mrs Fakoya (The Headmaster/Maths Teacher and the Year Six Sapphire Teacher). The best time I've had was with our funny pictures and Sports Day when we went to UNILAG! (The University of Lagos).

There is success in going to greater heights of learning and education like how I'm going to Atlantic Hall, and even though I've been in Sunnydale for just two terms, it has been a nice experience to see lots of wonderful things we've done.

Femi Fadare

"Some of my times here have been memorable, some forgettable but when I look back it's been a lot of fun."

My Sunnydale School Experience

Oh my gosh! I can't believe it's over. I am so excited to be going to secondary school and also sad to be leaving a family and a lot of friends. Even though I've just been here since Year Four it feels like I've been here forever.

Some of my times here have been memorable, some forgettable but when I look back it's been a lot of fun. My favourite time were electives, a fun time to do what you love, mine was swimming. My worst time was... I don't really have a worst time.

One of my favourite teachers is Mrs Fakoya - disciplined but amazing; she has taught me everything I know, thank you so much.

Bye Sunnydale

Oluwasoladegbin King

Wow! Being in Sunnydale School was a blast and now it's over.

Bye Sunnydale I am going to miss you and I'm going to miss Mrs Fakoya the most. I'm going to miss my class mates except Sola (for we are going to the same secondary school) and I'm not going to miss Quantitative Reasoning.

Talzion Scott-Nnaji

"my best was when we went for competitions and we all came first"

Wow! I can't believe it's over, I can't believe I'm leaving Sunnydale, I'm going to miss all my friends like Sola, Tumininu and Busola, and also my teachers like Mrs Fakoya, Mr Fadare, Mr Soetan and Monsieur Pat. To all those who are going to take my place in Year Six, please do well.

My worst time in Year six was when I got flogged and my best was when we went for competitions and we all came first; well, I hope you all do the same. Bye.

B'Oluwatife Olabanji

"the first thing I'll do while going out is to say goodbye to my friends, secondly I'll greet my teachers"

How time flies! I thought it would take a long time to finish Primary School but now I'm already in my last class - Year 6, almost done with my primary school. As I go out of Sunnydale, I would like to greet with my friends and do other things with them. So, the first thing I'll do while going out is to say goodbye to my friends, secondly I'll greet my teachers, and finally, I'll make a speech to everyone showing that I'm going off to secondary school.

AbdulShakur Sambo

Wow! I can't believe my journey in Sunnydale School is over! My years in Sunnydale have been spectacular. I started this journey in Year 3 where I met Mr Soetan. He was very kind, but strict sometimes. Then I met Mr Babaniyi in Year 4 who was also strict,

"I started this journey in Year 3 where I met Mr Soetan. He was very kind, but strict sometimes."

and kind. Moving to Year 5, I met with Mr Pitt and Mrs Olawale-Edun, then Mrs Fakoya in Year 6. All these teachers have taught me a lot and helped me pass all my entrance exams. I want to say a big thank you, because I really appreciate it.

I'm off to Dansol High School.

Tumininu Akinbami

I would like to thank a lot of people for helping me in school like Mrs Fakoya a.k.a Mama Sapphire, Mr Fadare, my school dad, Mr Pitt with his anointing and many others.

Wow! I can't believe time is up. It time to move on. I would like to thank a lot of people for helping me in school like Mrs Fakoya a.k.a Mama Sapphire, Mr Fadare, my school dad, Mr Pitt with his anointing and many others. Though my stay in Sunnydale was short, it is something I will never forget and always treasure. Sunnydale rules!!!

LEAVING YEAR SIX SAPPHIRE

I really cannot believe I am leaving Year Six so soon. Wow! Time really flies; I am really going to miss this school.

One of the things I am going to miss about this school is the funny teachers like Mr. Pitt, Mr. Fadare and Mr. Lawal. Some of the good times I had in Year Six were getting to become the head boy and the times I got the highest marks in the whole class.

Some of the bad times I had were getting flogged eight strokes, six strokes, and one stroke, and also kneeling in front of the school but I learnt my lessons and that's why I am going to miss Sunnydale School.

Dear Parents,

I give you back your children, the same children you confidently entrusted to my care last September. I give them back inches taller, months wiser, more responsible, and more mature than they were then.

Although they would have attained this growth in spite of me, it has been my pleasure and privilege to watch their personalities unfold day by day.

I give them back reluctantly, for having spent nine months together in the narrow confines of our classroom, we have grown close, have become a part of one another, and we shall always retain a little of one another.

Ten years from now if we met on the street, your children and I, twinkles will come to our eyes, smiles to our faces, and we shall feel this bond of understanding once more, the bond we feel now.

We have lived, loved, laughed, cried, played, studied, learned, and enriched our lives together this year. I wish it could go on indefinitely, but give them back I must. Take care of them, for they are precious.

Remember that I shall always be interested in your children and their destinies, wherever they go, whatever they do, whoever they become. Their joys and sorrows I'll always be happy to share. A bientot "beautiful people".

RESPECT

Respect is a virtue that refines us. It helps us to be thoughtful, caring and kind! Let us quickly analyse and realise the differences between disrespect and respect.

*Dirtying the classroom and throwing down litter
Are signs of selfishness - they make the cleaners bitter.*

*Shouting at others displays a lack of politeness.
Refusing to help robs the day of its brightness.
Excitement is normal, but we have to control it.
So, if you lose something, don't say, "Someone stole it!"
Please do not laugh at your classmate's mistake.
Even try to console him/her and help him/her.
Carelessness, laziness, rudeness and dirt -
Throw them away so that no-one gets hurt.*

*Remember always to follow the rule
Example is given at home and at school.
Smile at one another so no-one feels down.
Please one another and try not to frown.
"Excuse me" and "thank you" can brighten our day.
Close the doors gently, don't bang them away.
Talk in a low voice - it makes you real cool.
"Respect shows great wisdom - it's not for the fool"*

- and that is why we in Year 5 Fuchsia have chosen to be respectful all the days of our lives.

Ratio and Proportion

Ratio is How Many "For Every" Bit of That

Ratio is about how much of one thing you get for how much of another.

EXAMPLE: For every £1 coin you put in the change machine, it gives you 50p pieces.

If you put in £2 coins, you get 100 50p pieces.
If you put in £5 coins, you get 100 50p pieces. And so on.

Simply multiply the number of pound coins by two to find how many 50p pieces you get.

Work out these problems based on ratios:

For every person I invite to dinner I need to cook 300 ml of the famous leek soup, baked beans and banana soup. If I invite five people, how many ml of soup do I have to cook?

What about if I invite ten people?

For every bowl of soup I cook, I need half a tin of baked beans. If I make ten bowls, how many tins of beans do I need?

If I have eight tins of beans, how many bowls can I make?

In every bowl of soup there's 40p worth of ingredients. If I have £3.60 to buy ingredients with, how many bowls can I make?

Supposing I want to make 12 bowls, how much money will that cost?

For every three quanta of soup there are, my guests spend four hours eating it. If you are three quanta, how many hours would you expect to eat it?

1500ml
3000ml
5 tins
16 bowls
6 bowls
£7.20
12 hours

Ratio is about keeping things in proportion...
Keep a look out for questions that use the words "for every...". They're probably to ratio questions. That means you'll be able to answer them with a multiplication or division sum.

Trees
Whispering through the wind,
Fluttering through the night,

For every tree, there are shades,
So beautiful to have nature's trees.

From the everywhere,
Dancing to the music of the wind,
Dancing vigorously from side to side,
Dancing its branches with leaves - breathing air,
Falling each particle for us to feel,
A place for birds to nest in their heads.

It seems like yesterday when we first met, bringing different personalities along. Though our colours, tribes, and beliefs were different, we had one goal, one heart and one mind; in one accord we strode through different stages of learning. We give God all the glory!

We played together, learned together, laughed together and worked together. Like the fern, we grow anywhere we find ourselves and will continue to make great impact. We have always believed in the words of Jim Goodwin, "The impossible is often the untried."

Together, we tried our hands at some seemingly impossible tasks and how rewarding and joyful it was to discover that we could do once we tried and kept trying.

Keep growing Ferns and soar like eagles!

UNDERSTANDING THE TIME

Know the mathematics also? July 2012 minus September 2011 equals life. It equals time through which lots of activities and experiences moved the participants from where they were to the next level. It may be possible for someone to delete this from his resume but never from his life. So time wasted is life wasted.

The Freesians were the 'now' children of Issachar, who had an understanding of the times to know what a whole nation ought to do. They numbered 14 in September 2011, but destiny brought 3 more on board. I'm grateful for their co-operation which helped us to engage in various academic and extra-curricular activities. When we look back, our objective assessment is 'a wonderful session'.

A few lessons we have learnt in this arm of Year 4 include: Your time is your life; Time is what you can't control; Time is what you can make use of. Time is a God-given asset and your use of time is a measure of your effectiveness and efficiency. This concept has helped my handsome Chiwuikem dramatically increase his writing speed. It has also helped pretty Lara fall in love with her academics.

Many thanks to both parents and management who gave the opportunity to use this time.

More importantly we are grateful to the One who's never affected by time. Know his name? Ancient of days

Elijah Babaniyi

PERCENTAGE

NAME: Kunni Monda

Percent or per hundred describes the expression of given number over hundred e.g. 20 percent means 20 out of hundred or 20 over hundred is 20/100.

Percentage is denoted by % e.g. 30% = 3/10. Percentage can be expressed as a fraction as well as decimals e.g. 50% = 50/100 = 1/2 or 0.50 and vice versa.

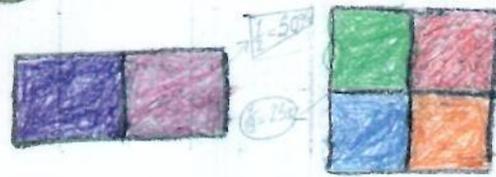

Percentage of given quantity can be calculated e.g. 28% of 200km. Also given quantities can be increased or decreased by percentage e.g. 800kg can be increased by 40%.

Well, I just can't believe it's finally over. I've been in this school for just one session and I have to say that this journey has been a very exciting one. Seems like yesterday that we were on the threshold of this class feeling awkward and unsure of what this new teacher had in stock and what these pupils were going to be like - unsure of ourselves, yet poised and ready to face the challenges ahead.

The road to this point wasn't always a smooth one, I know. Sometimes it was rough, while other times it was almost impossible to even eat snacks or the Eba and Egusi soup for some, and yet you managed to conquer the miles despite all the hurdles. Well done boys and girls! I am proud of you.

On a final note, ride Three Teal 2011/2012 to Year Four in style and take with you this quote from Winston Churchill "success is never final, failure is never fatal, it is courage that counts". Ride on!!!

You'll probably be wondering what that is. Well, it's just a greeting in a different language being added to our already robust vocabulary. It's been a whole year of showers of knowledge all across the curriculum. You bet! The green grass just keeps growing!

How wouldn't we become money smart with all the hands-on activities, practical ideas & knowledge we've acquired. We also implemented such knowledge in our Topaz Shopping Mart with counters and ATM Machines; the compass also bailed us out of lost terrains several times.

We are also becoming 'wizards' at multiplication tables, arming ourselves with tolerance and perseverance - two characters of success.

Wow! We've come to the end of yet another exhilarating session.

Working with my "rare gems" has been highly fulfilling and worth the time. There was never a dull moment.

We cruised together in all spheres of learning ranging from Mathematics, Literacy, Science, Social Studies, to Creativity, and we are now ready to soar to the next level.

I wish you all the best as you move on to the next class.

My gratitude goes to the Almighty God and my ever supportive parents for making the session worthwhile.

Gorillas

Gorillas are the largest apes. They live in the rain forests of Africa. Every morning, they wake up and eat a breakfast of leaves, fruit, and roots. During most of the day, the adult gorillas take care of themselves. Young gorillas play with their mothers and other gorillas. They swing and climb. When the adults wake up, everyone gets up. When there is danger, gorillas stand up on their hind legs, scream, and beat their chests. Every night, gorillas go to bed. The gorillas build a new nest to sleep in. They build off dead branches to make their beds, either on the ground or in the trees. Baby gorillas crawl up to their mothers to sleep.

Read the clues to the puzzle in the story. Write the answers in the boxes with the matching numbers.

Answers:

1. During the day, adult gorillas eat.
2. Gorillas eat leaves, fruit, and roots.
3. The largest apes are gorillas.
4. In danger, gorillas stand up.
5. Young gorillas play.

Memo From Your Child

1. Don't spoil me. I know quite well that I ought not to have all that I ask for. I'm testing you.
2. Don't be afraid to be firm with me. I prefer it; it makes me feel more secure.
3. Don't let me form bad habits. I have to rely on you to detect them in the early stages.
4. Don't make me feel smaller than I really am. It only makes me behave stupidly "big".
5. Don't correct me in front of people if you can help it. I'll take much more notice if you talk to me privately.
6. Don't make me feel my mistakes are sins. It upsets my sense of values.
7. Don't protect me from consequences. I sometimes have to learn the painful way.
8. Don't be too upset when I say, "I hate you." It isn't you I hate, but your power to thwart me.
9. Don't take too much notice of my small ailments. Sometimes they get me the attention I need.
10. Don't nag. If you do, I shall have to protect myself by appearing deaf.
11. Don't forget that I cannot explain myself as well as I should like; this is why I'm not always accurate.
12. Don't make rash promises. Remember that I feel badly let down when promises are broken.
13. Don't tax my honesty too much. I am easily frightened into telling lies.
14. Don't be inconsistent. That completely confuses me and makes me lose faith in you.
15. Don't tell me my fears are silly. They are terribly real to me and you can do much to reassure me if you try to understand.
16. Don't put me off when I ask questions. If you do, you will find that I stop asking and get my information elsewhere.
17. Don't ever suggest that you are perfect or infallible. It gives me too great a shock when I discover that you are neither.
18. Don't ever think it is beneath your dignity to apologize to me. An honest apology makes me feel surprisingly warm toward you.
19. Don't forget how quickly I am growing up. It must be difficult to keep pace with me, but please, do try.
20. Don't forget that I love experimenting. I couldn't get along without it so please put up with it.
21. Don't forget that I can't thrive without lots of understanding love, but I don't need to tell you that do I?

Early Years Special Assembly

Sapphires at Work

8:45 PM THURSDAY

Right in the heart of Lagos' jostle and buzz. The dusk is at full sway. The traffic flow was exactly as the blood flow in a two day old corpse. My tie already in my hands and my jacket was nowhere to be found. I guess my iPad was somewhere close if my presumption was right. At the owner's seat... drained and fagged out. "Thank God I was not the one driving." I mumbled silently. "What a day!" my silent thoughts cried out aloud. Just left a long pitch in one of the multinational companies you will love. Still in this long static drama of waiting- heavily pregnant with palpable twins of boredom and desperation; a million and one thoughts flashed through my mind. OMG!, I have another presentation early the next morning. In the mix of all these drama a car ran into the car beside us with a crashing startling noise. It stabbed the seeming coolness of the moment to a hush. I cried out, "What a day!"

10:02 PM THURSDAY

Still in the car, just at the verge of sinking into a soothing nap, "Bzzzzz, bzzzzz!!!" my phone rang. It interrupted the tranquil transition into an impromptu world of rest I desperately deserve. "Olori" reads the phone's screen, that's my wife. "Ooooooh!!!" I yelled without thinking. In a speed of light; I remembered I have promised to help her conceptualize, draw and cut several boarder designs and patterns for her class boards tonight.

"Ah!!!" I hissed. How I wished she's fast asleep.

"Hellooooo d-a-r-l-i-n-g", I answered as I picked the call pretending that am excited to hear her beautiful voice.

"Hello love. Where are you now?" she inquired caringly as usual.

But today's enquiry is far from absolute care. Her palpable concerns for her class designs laced her innocent but revealing soft voice.

She is a passionate, creative and hardworking young teacher that is driven unstopably by excellence and her love for her pupils. She loves getting things done when she wants it. These attributes of hers, most of the times remain the bane of her always busy spouse who is a top official in a promising advertising outfit. My gifting in creativity and drawing are her goldmine.

What a world!

"Almost at home" I whistled.

11:11 PM THURSDAY

At home: "Welcome love" She whispered as she welcomed me with a full embrace. All her tender words were flooded with "LOVE, LOVE and LOVE": Am smart to read all the gestures and body language as I undressed. "How I wish she will give me a break" I thought before I break my promise. She rushed swiftly into the kitchen to get my dinner.

11:47 THURSDAY

"Love, should I get the cardboards and sugar papers?" She asked softly with dual plausible emotions of sympathy and anxiety.

Bound by my words, I said yes with my weak hands outstretched to get her "exhibits" of scissors, colourful papers and markers from her. I prayed silently for strength and slave-driven by the enduring love that I have for her. She sat speechlessly beside me, peeping and helping out as we cut the colourful papers into compelling art pieces of well-designed stencils and patterns for display-board borders, stick-on and so on.

02:06 AM FRIDAY

Cutting the third stencil with eyes for details I was trying to ensure a perfect finish. I am a perfectionist. "Olori, Olori" I called over and over again. No response. She is fast drowned in her sleep. She slept lifelessly as I worked all through till 3:01 AM. After the last piece of work I tapped her softly into her awakening and asked her this rhetoric question, "How much did you say you're paid?" Her beautiful face grinned with heavy eyes slapped black and blue by catnap.

04:21 AM FRIDAY

The sound of banging pots and plates chased me out of my deep inception. This affirms my wife's activities in the kitchen. She's always out of bed at four. Up from bed, I ran into the Creator's presence in praise which habitually runs into an hour plus; then the family altar. My wife flashed from room to room, from the kitchen to the bathroom like lightening; fixing meals for our lovely kids and getting ready for work at the same time. All her clash of speed is to meet her departure time of 6:15 AM.

After the family altar, I'll assume the second mama's role, preparing cute Mojyin for school - I would brush her teeth, take her bath, clothe her and feed her. Then put myself in order for work. This is my constant daily routine.

06:13 AM FRIDAY

"Bye love." She whispered with a warm embrace.

Little David stretched and yawned behind her, fully dressed for crèche. She left me and little Mo' behind. Some few seconds later she dashed back in.

"Hello love, please don't forget, tomorrow is PTA meeting" she pleaded desperately.

This implies that my availability on Saturday must be certain to baby seat. I uttered no words as I laced my shoes.

"Daddy, hope mummy will come back early today?" Mo' enquired as we drove to her school.

I answered loudly in dumbness "God knows, she leaves early and come back late". I have to reply in silence because Mo' will hold me responsible for every word I utter.

This scenario is a regular experience. I think am hardwired to live this way.

Even this write up is another proof of Sunnydale's "token of love" to me. The love for my wife is their access to my highly valued time. All the same it's a rare privilege.

Mr. Francis Adeshina

joke

In the school, during a mathematics class...

Teacher: If I were to ask you to add 8,137 to 73 and then divide the result by two, what do you think you would get?

Student: The wrong answer, sir.

Being the husband of a delectable Sunnydale SUPREME means that I have two jobs: one for which I earn money, and the other from which I earn love.

A teacher I am not but I find myself constantly involved in the activities of lesson and classroom activities planning, computing of test and examination scores and classroom design.

Mohammed Abiola will be surprised to know, that I know that he thinks examination and test times should be converted to turkey eating times where the greatest eater of turkey would be first; and second would be the next best eater, and so on. How much I laugh at the things that go on in the minds of children!

Two beautiful children we have, however at prayer times, the names I hear are much more than two, I assure you. Where do you think the rest of the names are coming from? That's how far and how much teachers love their children. Hmn hmn! That reminds me of the confusion my wife gives me when she says, 'my children'. Academic or biological? I sometimes ask. I share my wife's joy when she praises the progress made by Mosope, Chisom and Abdulshakur, (some of our academic children).

During mid-term breaks, when I look forward to having more attention and time from my wife, there are trainings and seminars to attend. It's one of the prices to pay for being the spouse of an indefatigable Sunnydale SUPREME.

On a lighter note, there are the rib-cracking jokes of Mr. Pitt and Mr. Soetan to enjoy, and the playful ways of Mr. Lawal to remind me of my younger days. And what about the disciplinarian, Ade Fakoya? (Määmi is what I hear my wife call you over the phone).

From security staff to managers; from assistant teachers to teachers and every staff of Sunnydale school, you've been very wonderful. Long live Sunnydale School!

Dr. Olawale Edun (this writer), is the husband of Mrs Olawale-Edun (Year 5 Flax)
(David insisted on using this font style, Määmi take note.)

Je me nomme madame Amedzo Egitayo, l'épouse de monsieur Pat. Chaque matin mon mari quitte la maison pour se rendre au travail, il ne revient que le soir. Je suis la plupart du temps seule à la maison.

A vrai dire l'école Sunnydale est devenue mon deuxième mari. Parfois j'ai même envie de le suivre pour aller travailler ensemble mais hélas c'est impossible.

Merci mille fois l'épouse de Sunnydale.

A Kind of Finishing School

By Adeleke A. Fakoya, PhD

Being a Sunnydale spouse has made me one thing: a clockwork being. Every day, at 5 a.m., my cell-phone alarm goes off. It doesn't matter if I'd slept at 3 a.m. but my brain, my body, even my eyes are all quickly perked up – not necessarily to start my own day, but to set my wife's day in motion. Enter the first gear: caressing her back, massaging her shoulders, kneading her muscles... all just to bring her out of a characteristic heavy nightly snooze. Though mildly protesting, she rouses woozily – like one under heavy sedation. Second gear: limb by limb, she 'stretches' herself into the day's reality. Third gear: the children's turn to be cajoled out of bed: Do you want to swim today? Would you like to be the first to get to school today? Does your teacher know you're always the first to wake up in your family? Quite naturally, fired by the desire to be first, each child first groans and whines and demands that he or she 'sleep a little more' but with a little more sweet-talk, these lovely gifts brighten the dawn with their eagerness to show me they're ready to be first indeed. Every day. Every week. Every term.

But being a Sunnydale spouse has built me up in many more ways than a piece of writing can account for. In a way, it's been a kind of Finishing School for me. For instance, the need to get my wife and children ready for the day has taught me how to get the best of the early hours of each day. How? If I have to start my wife's day for her, so I think, I might as well just start my own day, too. What's more, it's taught me that one can make being responsible a hobby. But the honest truth is that, being a Sunnydale spouse/parent has greatly sharpened my ratiocination in many ways.

Um, ratiocination. Isn't that a big word! I could just call one of my 'Arrows' and ask him or her to spell the word – and be surprised he or she will get it right. Well, that's just one of the great things you enjoy by being a Sunnydale spouse or parent. Indeed, the grooming, the pruning, and the tasking that Sunnydale children receive from their teachers all rub off on their parents, too. Such that, even when you think you're only assisting your child with his or her homework, you're actually filling in a gap in your own education as well. How many adults out there, for instance, can spell 'veterinary' (or the three italicised words in the last paragraph below)? I'm sure most would readily spell 'veterinary' as 'V-E-T-I-N-A-R-Y'. That's just a little effect of the Sunnydale Spelling Bee! What about when you help – if you can! – with their Quantitative and Non-verbal reasoning skills homework? Be truthful, don't you learn something yourself? And when I try to gauge my own children's education and knowledge, I call my early education into question. Truly.

As a Sunnydale spouse, I'm not a little concerned with my wife's constant reference to her 'children'. It took me quite some time to understand her passionate commitment to her pupils, such that she cannot refer to them as 'pupils', not to mention the personal details she has about each of them. And, correspondingly, the "children's" own devotion to her – confiding in her, seeking her opinion, reporting issues to her... and, in a way, building a future relationship with a godmother, so to speak. Which makes me – who would doubt it – a godfather in a sense!

I'm happy my family is a part of all this.

Teacher: "Sam, what is the outside of a tree called?"

Sam: "I don't know."

Teacher: "Bark, Sam, bark."

Sam: "Bow, wow, wow!"

joke

A 5-year-old one day asked her big brother "what is love?"

He replied: "Love is when you steal my chocolate from my school pack everyday...

and I still keep it in the same place.

Sola King: Autobiography

My name is OLUWASOLADEGBIN MARY-NAOMI KING; I am ten years old right now going on eleven. I was born on the 7th April 1991 in Lagos state, Nigeria to the King family. The name of my mom is Carol King and my dad's name is Kola King, I have two brothers, my stepbrother and oldest of the children is Ikem Nsolo and my blood brother (second oldest) is Quddus King. I recently moved with my family to a new house in Ikeja-G.R.A

I like making friends and some of my friends are B'Oluwatife Olabanji(my best friend), Timilehin Ogunbadejo and Jasmine, just to name a few. I have a lot of hobbies but my favourite are sports, dancing, singing and playing lots and lots of games on my iPad.

I attend Sunnydale School and I am in primary 6. School is lots of fun for me especially when we have events like "Track n field", Mufti day (this is when we get to wear anything but our uniform to school), Christmas concert (although I missed the last one) and Valentine's Day (when you have to wear something red).

I also have some talents like I am a wonderful dancer, I have an amazing voice and I am really athletic. I have a few interests like watching television although I only get to watch over the weekend which is very annoying. I like to sleep and do some sports like football and swimming to keep me healthy and slim because I like chocolate and burgers and hmmm... ice cream. I also love fashion, I love mixing things up to look the best I can.

When I grow up I would love to be a beautiful, elegant, successful and fashionable model.

Know More about Me

My name is ABDUL-SHAKUR SAMBO. I am 10 yrs old and I was born on the 19th of May, 2001. My favourite colour is blue and my favourite food is rice with stew. My hobbies are swimming, basketball, and badminton. I don't sleep very early on weekends and I like resting.

I also attend a school named Sunnydale during the week and some weekends, and I'm in Year 6. I play an instrument called a trumpet, it's made out of brass and the colour of mine is gold. In the future I wish to be an engineer [computer]. My best subjects are Maths and English language. I like reading all kinds of books but I prefer adventure books.

I have a pet cat in Lagos, it doesn't eat any other bread except Barcelos bread and it's fair in complexion. Some members of my family are abroad but the only person I really have a relationship with, of all of them, is my uncle. He's in London; he has finished his Master's and he has a job there.

Not everybody in my family likes me, especially my cousin. He likes going to his friend's house without asking his parents, and since I don't condone this sort of behaviour, I tell him. I'm very happy for one thing, that I don't have a step mother and I'm really sad that I don't have a brother or sister.

My Side of the World

Many people have their different experiences in the world, some good and some bad but here are mine. It started like any normal child's life but it had other plans for me.

My life started on March 11th 2001 on a Sunday. I had just been brought into the world. A lot of people came {mum knows too many people}. You should have seen the joy on my father's face when he first saw me. I was quite small. According to my mum, my dad wouldn't stop looking at me. My dad thanked God for the wonderful gift he had been blessed with. After everyone had left, except my dad {of course he wouldn't leave}, my mum got a good night's rest.

I was given the names Moshopefun Oluwa, Ore-ofe Oluwasunkanmidale and Toby by my parents, Modupe Oluwa by my grandma, and Shikemi by my great grandma. I was a very healthy baby and I hardly got ill apart from when I got measles. When I was little, I didn't interact with children but now I am a hit with children. As I grew older I changed a lot and now I am ten and I don't know what the future holds for me but I'm getting to know.

Fake Fear

As I shuffled up the stairs of our school I could almost feel the speed and hear the noise of my heartbeat. As I walked into the class my heart skipped a beat, for I was so surprised to see Mrs. Fakoya's desk littered with books and not bones, and her mouth was filled with chocolate, not human meat.

I was also surprised to hear that my friends were about to watch a movie. "Maybe Year Six won't be that bad", I thought. We saw three movies that day, the first was titled "The Three Idiots". We were all given names that matched our behaviour.

I was named a spoiler for I knew everything that happened in the first movie so I practically spoilt the movie for everyone. UK, my best friend, was also named a spoiler for he knew everything that happened in our second movie.

We had some certain party breaks (disturbances) - first when there was a power outage, when we had our Monday assembly, and when we had our long and short breaks.

Then Mr. Lawal, our Music teacher called us for our Independence Day rehearsals tagged: Freedom Nigeria, which was very boring. I hope Year Six days would be like this forever.

joke

Physics Teacher: "Isaac Newton was sitting under a tree when an apple fell on his head and he discovered gravity. Isn't that wonderful?"
Student: "Yes sir, if he had been sitting in class looking at books like us, he wouldn't have discovered anything."

Teacher: What is a synonym?
Student: A synonym is a word you use when you can't spell the other!
